Notes on Use

Venue for proceedings in a juvenile case shall be in any county where any act of the alleged offense was committed. Venue for sentencing shall be in the county of the juvenile offender's residence, unless there is a motion and determination by the adjudicating judge that it is in the interest of justice to sentence the juvenile in the county of adjudication. When venue is transferred for sentencing, the statute requires the adjudicating judge to contact the sentencing court, advise the sentencing judge of the transfer, send a facsimile of the complaint and the journal entry of adjudication or the judge's minutes immediately, along with any sentencing recommendations. The adjudicating court shall also send to the sentencing court a complete copy of the official and social files in the case by mail within 7 days of adjudication. K.S.A. 38-2305.

In determining proper venue, the youth's best interest and the interest of justice may be served by considering which county presents the greater likelihood of permanency for the youth, and which county will be providing services to the youth and family.
